senger Association established what is known as its mileage bureau there were grave doubts as to the life of the movement, which was a radical change and much opposed by the traveling salesmen. The wisdom of the plan has, during the three years, been practically demonstrated, and with the slight modifications that have been made the mileage book is popular with the merchants and traveling salesmen. A statistical report of the mileage bureau's operations from the time of its establishment, Sept. 1, 1897, to the night of June 30 last, has just been prepared by the officials of the association. It shows that in the thirty-four months a total of $3,947,321 was disbursed in rebates on payments for interchangeable mileage books. The largest monthly disbursement was made last June, when $154,277 was handed over the bureau's counters on the eighth floor of the Monadnock building. The disbursements in the other months of 1900 were as follows: January, $136,790; February, $128,181; March, $148,343; April, $147,622, and May, $152,277. From Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, 1897, the amounts paid out in rebates aggregated $236,360; from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1897, the amounts paid out in rebates aggregated $236,360; from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1898, $1,335,442; from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1899, $1,507,493. The number of interchangeable mileage tickets sold in the thirty-four months was 432,956. Most of these tickets were bought by traveling salesmen, thus showing that their ranks increased. The sales from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, 1897, aggregated 50,974, and in the months of 1900 as

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—Arlie Latham was to-day signed by Cincinnati as utility man and coach. He will don his uniform at New York to-morrow. Although Cincinnati played a good game to-day, Philadelphia was so far superior that in many cases the visitors were made to appear ridiculous. The home team batted and fielded like pennant winners and Phillips, who took Scott's place on the rubber, was unable, to prevent the fusillade. Cincinnati made two runs in the eighth by bunching four hits. Score;

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KANSAS CITY, July 25 .- Lee made a wild throw to first in the sixth inning to-day and Hartsel and Geier scored from second and first. The throw virtually gave the game to Indianapolis.

In spite of the fact that Lee was hit very much harder than Kellum the game rightly belonged to the home team, for the safe hits made by Indianapolis were scattered through nine innings, while Manning's men put five of their good ones together in the fourth inning and scored four runs. If the book does not show Kellum to have been batted hard this is because there was some great fielding behind him, for the errors which are charged to the visitors were made on balls that came like cannon shots. The Indianapolis infield was not up to the mark with its work, but the men in the outfield more than made up for this. Hogriever and Hartsel must each be credited with cutting down what would have been a three-base hit, and both the flies were sent into runs. On the whole, the fielding of the home team was better than that of the visitors, the only absolutely inexcusable play being Lee's throw, which lost the Lee got out of a bad hole by allowing Indianapolis to score only one run in the first. A hit by Hogriever, a bunt by Hartsel and Coughlin's error in dropping Lee's throw when Geier bunted filled the bases. Hogriever crossed the plate when Geier and Seybold were doubled, and Magoon soon went out at first. In the sixth O'Brien got a single and in the seventh Gonding made a scratch two-bagger, but no harm was done. Hartsel, who had hit for a base, and Geier, who had bunted, came in on Lee's bad throw in the sixth. In the seventh the visitors took their last two runs. Hogriever went from home to third on Coughlin's low throw to Dungan and scored on Hartsel's two-bagger. Geier's single brought in Hartsel. Score: Kansas City. A.B. R. H. O.

The New Alcalde of Vigan Salutes

President McKinley. WASHINGTON, July 25 .- General Mac-Arthur has cabled the War Department announcement of the successful erection of another municipal government in the Philippines. This government is established at Vigan, on the northwestern coast of the island of Luzon, at a point made memorable by the landing of Young's forces during the pursuit of Aguinaldo, when that leader was last in strength. The alcalde referred to in General MacArthur's dispatch corresponds to the Spanish alcalde or American mayor. The message reads: "Following telegram from alcalde of recently formed municipal government at Vigan. Luzon, is transmitted: 'President, Washington - Alcalde stalled under General Young's supervision.
